У статті проаналізовано науковий доробок отця Михайла Зубрицького (1856–1919) з вивчення церковної історії та релігійної проблематики. Автор визначає проблематику досліджень отця Михайла через аналіз його науково-публіцистичних праць. Констатовано, що свої наукові дослідження він будував на основі даних спархіальних та деканатських архівів та бібліотек а також згодо власних спостережень. Відзначено, що наукові напрацювання слід умовно розділити на три підгрупи: археографічні, аналітичні та історичні. До першої групи праць належать публікації архівних документів та матеріалів, зокрема низку церковних актів та офіційних документів, до другої – висвітлення церковних відносин, взаємин між священиками та між віруючими та священнослужителями, відповідно до третьої групи належать праці історичного змісту, у яких автор подав відомості з історії церкви в Галичині та сусідніх територій а також історії окремих парафій краю. Встановлено археографічну та історичну цінність віднайдених матеріалів, які є значущим джерелом у дослідженні церковної історії та проблематики Галичини.

Відзначено, що негативним явищем в церковних справах наприкінці ХІХ – початку ХХ ст. та історії отець Михайло вважав москвофільство та переходи громад на латинських обряд. Наголосиво, що навколо думку, що нас не засудло для едності руського народу, а також не сприяло його розвитку. Слід наголосити, що дослідник недостатньо критично піддав аналізі використаній матеріал, а здійснював тільки їх публікацію. Зазначається, що дана тематика лише частково висвітлена у наукових напрацюваннях вітчизняних та зарубіжних дослідників.

Formulation of the problem. A separate page in the scholarly work of the well-known Ukrainian ethnographer Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi i (1856–1919) was devoted to the study of the history of the church and the coverage of the daily life of the clergy. As a priest, he had access to diocesan libraries and archives, allowing him to process ancient materials that he subsequently published on the pages of scholarly journals of that time.

An analysis of the main research of publications. Church history in the study of Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi has been poorly studied until recently, so today there is no generalizable work in Ukrainian historical and ethnological science in which his research activity is analyzed. However, the work of Ukrainian researchers Hryhorii Demian and Andrii Zaiarniuk and the Canadian scientist Frank Sysin should be singled out, in which they partially analyze the publications of the natural scientist on this problem.

As the Ukrainian researcher G. Demian rightly noted, this work of the natural scientist was skillfully used to encourage his colleagues to patriotic work1.

Setting objectives. The purpose of the article is to review and analyze the scientific achievements of Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi i in the study of church history.

Presenting main material. On the basis of archival materials, priest M. Zubrytskyi i issued a large number of documents concerning the clergy and parishes of the region under his own name. Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi’s publications on church history and the problems of the church, in our opinion, should be conditionally divided into three groups: archeographic, analytical and historical.

The first group of publications of the researcher should include works of archieographic content, in which priest Mykhailo published documents and materials on the history of the church and church problems, found in decanal and diocesan archives and libraries.

Among the valuable documents found by priest M. Zubrytskyi i is the “Chronicle of Stavropiggy”, the original of which is in the funds of the Institute of Literature of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine – Stavropigian University (since 1788).

A considerable array of documents and correspondence of priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi i was published on the occasion of the opening of deanery and parish libraries for the years 1825–1854, which contained almost as much of his own analysis as the publication and summation of documents, as well as the state of the Greek Catholic clergy at the peak of its Polonization in Galicia. As the Canadian scientist F. Sysin points out, this collection demonstrated the devotion with which the hierarchy supported the Russian language. A series of documents were published by a researcher regarding the refusal of peasants to sign petitions for the return of land to church and parish property. The scientist found petitions from the villages of Hvizdets, Limna and Khashchov in the Turkiv region. People “justified the refusal of signatures for fear of betrayal, b. the return of the serfdom”.

Among the archeographic works on this topic should be highlighted the publication of “Sale of” half “in the village. Skoppe in 1592”. It contains a foundation letter from the village of Skopova, about the sale of Stanislaw Tarnavsky to Yatskova Telesnitsky for 266 zł, also a list of duties (natural and labor) performed by the peasants in favor of the priest.

In addition to the case of the sale of a half-family, priest Mykhailo has documented at least four such cases on the basis of processed documents. The first of which dates from 1637, where Vladyslav Zelensky sold Ivanov in Zalich for 200 zł.\textsuperscript{13}, the next case of the sale of the insurgency took place in 1642, according to which Martin Krasitsky sold the insult to Mikhailov in Hirina for 400 zł.\textsuperscript{14}. In 1650, the third such incident occurred. In Ruschelchichi for 400 zł., A sale was made to Felician Grokhovsky by Gregory Timkovich.\textsuperscript{15} And in the last case of the sale of the half-breed the researcher recorded in 1668 for 150 zł. Nikolay Firley in Grechpol sold Vasyl Paslavsky.\textsuperscript{16} Priest Mykhailo emphasized that “the sale of the half-breed was common in Poland”\textsuperscript{17}.

On the basis of the book “Acta revisionis ecclesiarum intra decanatum...”\textsuperscript{18}, priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi published materials on the situation of the clergy and churches. The author points out that the number of parishes decreased “by that time there were 30, but now there are no 10”.\textsuperscript{19} The reason for this, he pointed to the transition of the population to the Latin rite and the decline of “spiritual”. On the basis of the sources, the author described the duties of the peasants for the benefit of the priests in different villages of the region (Pnovenich, Bakhiv, Ruschelchichi, Sinnin, Rpilin).\textsuperscript{20} The arbitrariness of Polish and insulted landowners, the onslaught of the Roman Catholic clergy, poverty and the feudal dependence of the peasantry – all the information submitted by the scientist, according to G. Demian, led to the gradual degradation of part of the Ukrainian priests.\textsuperscript{21}

A series of documents on the history of local clergy in the XVI century collected by priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi, were published on the pages of NTSH Notes.\textsuperscript{22} The paper contains documents of village parishes, namely: Zamikhiv, Khryyna, Ruschelchychi, Grechpol, Yatkovichi, Dubkovychi (now the territory of the Polish Republic), as well as the position of the clergy and relations with peasants, etc.

To the greatest achievements of Priest Mykhailo in the history of religion in the nineteenth century and religious relations between Galicia and the Ukrainian lands within the Russian Empire are the publication of letters from the Galician priestly family from under Mshanets, which in the 70’s of the XIX century moved to the Kholmshchyna.\textsuperscript{24} Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi published letters from the priest S. Salvitsky to the priest A. Nazarevich in Mshanka with information about the transition of part of the clergy from Galicia to the Holm region went at the end of the 60s and in the first half of the 70s of the last century, the Russian clergy from Galicia to the Hill to convert their Uniates to Orthodoxy.\textsuperscript{25}

The second group of ecclesiastical researcher’s works is analytical content. In them, Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi analyzed church relations, information about priests, relationships between ordinary people and clergy, as well as the place of the clergy in the historical events of the nineteenth century.

One of the first works of a researcher on church topics called “Notes in the Servant printed in 1666”\textsuperscript{26} was published in 1889 on the pages of the newspaper “Zoria” in 1889. The content of the article reflects information about priests, their appointments and changes, data on marriages and deaths of different persons. Priest Mykhaio pointed to the great value of church history, since “the schematism of the peremiskoi diocese of the years 1877, 1879 and 1880 avenged a large number of literacy”27.

In The Right Prizes of Priests, Priest Mykhaio focuses on the difficult socio-economic situation of priests who have no protection from the local secular intelligentsia. The researcher emphasized that the priests did little work for the people’s cause: “If all the priests had united together and worked together for the good of their people, the Russian cause would soon go to the front”28. At the same time, he expressed his dissatisfaction with the election of the priests to the deeds, stating that “the present right is quite bad, because it seeks to please the uncle, and the peasants must remain silent.
This is no wonder, because this right was established and approved by the uncles”29.

Particularly valuable is the publication of priest Mykhaio Zubritskyi about Bishop Ivan Snegursky, who was called “by far the greatest bishop of the Diocese of Peremogy”30 through his active work and struggle for the Ukrainian people. The scientist analyzed the works dedicated to the memory of the bishop. Among such works, he distinguished the following works: priest Ivan Naumovich and priest Justine Zhelekhovsky. The researcher himself points out that “this was a living man, who was deeply moved by the disgust of working sincerely for the renewal and revival of his so very unhappy people”31.

The scientist published the relations between the peasants and the monks of the Lavra Monastery in the Dilo newspaper. Priest Mykhaio states that “though they have great expanses of land, they enter into a dispute with the peasants about the land”32. The monks support the elder, but the local Hrytsak family opposes giving the land to the monks. The family was sentenced to prison for this. The researcher also submitted the Starostin decision on this situation in the publication33.

Publication “Letter from priest Lomnitsky from Kromerizh in 1848”34 priest Mykhaio submitted materials to characterize the impact of the revolutionary events of 1848 on the outlook and actions of the Ukrainian clergy in Galicia, its national consciousness35.

To the third group of publications of priest Mikhailo, include the work in which he provided historical information on the history of the church in Galicia, the history of individual parishioners of the land and more.

A separate part of priest Mykhaio Zubrytskyi dedicated the history of a separate religious community – a parish, a scholar published a note in the newspaper “Dilo” for 1895, also in “ZNTSh”36. An example of such a community were the Lopushnitsa parish in the Dobromyl district and the Ripnik parish in the Korosnia Deanery. In the first parish, the scientist mentioned two priests:
priest Vladislav Pope (from 1850 to 1871), priest Vasyl Bachynsky (from 1873 to 1894)37. Describing each of them, the ethos scientist points out: “While you were a parish priest, priest Dad, everything was going fine. Powder draws all to sobriety, and when anyone is drunk, have to buy beer in the church under the church”...“people drank some of the vodka at least”38. He stressed that everything changed for the new gunpowder. “Bachinsky often does not brave anything for the services of a parochial, and when it is brave, it is very small, but it is not very busy with its parishioners. The church began to fall, people had no place to go. The parishioners did not hear the sermons and teachings of the church outside the church, rarely when they came together, and when anyone appeared, he was sent to the prison. In a letter to the editorial office of the Dilo newspaper, Priest Mykhailo said that he himself saw the situation in the parish, and also heard something from people. Concerning the second parish – Ropnik, the ethnographer publishes materials on its review, the confession of the peasants about the beating of the nobleman Grabkovskyi local priest, etc. Summarizing the intelligence data, the author stated that “it will be a precaution for people to work more over the people”.

In his reports, articles, speeches of priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi defended the clergy. The radical congress of 1897 in Lviv, where priests received the most negative feedback, was no exception. He emphasized, “the gradual people did not once and not two grumble about the intolerance of the church and its servants; more than one did not like the fact that the church had summoned other people who thought differently, and that they pursued and heartlessly pursued it.” At the congress, “priests” was called the greatest misfortune of our peasants, and with this opinion the researcher disagreed and cited the following: “the lack of peasants for years will not give a crusader to keep the priest.” He also protected the priests from being unable to preach Marx and Lassalle in the church.

The scientist praised the activity of priest Grytsykevych, giving him the following characteristic: “This is not an evil priest and would gladly help the people’s cause.” Also, such priests include Priest Jaworski, who, according to Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi, was “a man of resolute and kind Rusyn”, emphasizing his skillful cultural and political activities.

In one of the following articles, Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi reproached the secular Ukrainian intelligentsia: “the Russian, especially the secular intelligentsia, do not have the least influence on the lower strata of the Russian population” and the clergy “are more in contact with the people from their official duties, and those who live in the countryside converge even more with their parishioners”, about poor communication with the masses. The researcher also submitted a letter to Bishop Snigurski (1846), who defended himself against Polish chauvinists. The author summed up “the most spiritual men come to battle, earnestly labor for the good of their people” and “a capable priest can become the focal point of the whole village of the parish.”

Priest Mykhailo criticized priest Mykhailo Pruhnitsky of Turka in one of his publications. He emphasized that the priest, apart from purely ecclesiastical affairs, did not engage in social and cultural work among the population of Turks and Melnychny. The researcher emphasized that “it would be good for other intelligent forces, especially priests, to take up work.”

93 Зубрицький М. Зь села (Деякі гадкі письма доля жителів і відомості близьких служб). Діло. 1902. 8 (21) січня. Ч. 6. С. 2.
Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi was particularly negative about Moscow philosophers. The researcher condemned the actions of the Moskophiles priests Roman Krushynskyi of Leninka and Dmitry Marchak of Golovetskyi, stating that they were writing documents in Polish, and that the only one who was writing in Russian was Fr. Ivan the Economic, the gunner in Galivka. Under the very title of the publication Moskophiles on the Services of Poland, he noted that the Moskophiles priests “became Polish patriots and forgot entirely about their” Russian “patriotism.” He praised the activity of Priest Prelat Voytovich, who, as a member of the district school council, “did not care about the science of Russian,” and because of such activities of one person, “young thanks come out with pure analphabets.” Priest Mykhailo Zubritsky positively covered the activity of Bishop Sylvester Sembratovich, who was “so unloved by Muscophiles” who performed “low revenge” on the priest.

In one of his publications, the researcher stated the reasons for the loss of respect for clergy among people. He attributed to them, above all, the activities of the priests themselves. The scientist argued that the priest should deliberately work for the benefit of the community and the entire people, contribute to raising the conditions and standard of living of the peasant. It should be added that 1846 was a year of propagation of aticlerical agitation and sentiment, which resulted in the spread of songs among peasants directed against both priests and landowners.

The ethnographer’s process of Catholicization of the Ukrainian population of Galicia and the transition from one rite to another also did not help. In particular, one of these transitions was recorded and published by priest M. Zubritskyi. The peasants of the Sunday Sambir County “in order to have their spiritual priest announce the conversion to Latin,” since “they had only a third Sunday to go to church, and to the parish church to go far.”

At the same time, the transition from Roman Catholic rite to Greek Catholic was in every way prevented by the leadership of the elderly. One such case was published by Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi under the title “Not equal measure.” In it, the researcher described the fact of a young man’s transition from a Greek Catholic rite to a Roman Catholic one and a ban on the opposite. The Sambir Commissioner of Torsk, resorting to a sophisticated interpretation of the legal provisions on this issue: “for the law knows the transition from religion or belief to another faith, but not from ritual of the same faith.” In the end, Priest Mykhailo successfully summarized this case “from the Russian rite to the Latin to freely go, because the law does not allow, but the same state law does not allow to move from the Latin to the Russian rite.”

In one of priest Mykhailo Zubritskyi drew attention to such a phenomenon as pilgrimage. In particular, he gave an example of a pilgrimage of people from Rus to Calvary or Calvary, who were very popular. This was used by the Franciscan monks, who “conceived at their churches to build chapels, inheriting the buildings at Calvary and called them also Calvary.” According to the records of a scientist in Galicia there were two such places “one circle Wadowice in Zebrzydow and the other on Paclav circle Dobromyl.” In order to increase the number of pilgrims to these places, rumors spread that “the one on Holy Calvary tortured Jesus Christ”, to which Priest Mykhailo replied: “not on Patslav, good people, tortured Christ, but on Calvary, the mountain near Jerusalem”\(^\text{69}\). Thus, he denied the “sanctity” of the local Calvary and warned people against ill-advised expenses, because most of their money (donations and so on) was left to the “shinkar Jews”.

Conclusions. The study found that a lot of space in his studies, Priest Mykhailo Zubrytsky devoted problems and history of the church. His works are rich in archeographic, analytical and historical content, which covers a variety of pages in the history of the church of Galicia. The peculiarities of the church relations between the priests themselves and between parishioners and clergy are highlighted. At the same time, previously unknown pages from the history of individual parishes in the region have been uncovered. Priest Mykhailo supported and praised the clergy’s socio-cultural and political activities, but criticized them for not being too active in the community. He particularly evaluated the activities of Muscophiles and the transitions of communities from one rite to another. Previously unpublished materials authored by Priest Mykhailo Zubrytsky are involved in the work-correspondence and church chronicles.

The results of the research can be used for further research of church history and issues in Galicia, with the subsequent involvement of historiographical and source material.

Summary

The article deals with the scientific achievements of Priest Mykhailo Zubrytskyi (1856–1919) in the study of church history and religious issues. He stated that he had based his research on the data of the diocesan and deanery archives and libraries, as well as on his own observations. It is noted that scientific work should be conditionally divided into three subgroups: archeographic, analytical and historical. The first group of works includes the publication of archival documents and materials, including a number of church acts and official documents the second – the coverage of church relations, relations between priests and between believers and clergy, according to the third group include works of historical content, in which the author provided information on history of the church in Galicia and neighboring territories, as well as the history of individual parishioners of the region.

The archeographic and historical value of the materials found has been established. It is noted that Priest Mykhailo considered the phenomenon of church affairs and history to be Muscophilic and the transitions of communities into Latin rites. He believed that this was a threat to the unity of the Russian people and also not conducive to its development. It should be emphasized that the historian at the same time stood up for the protection of the rural clergy, but criticized them for their weak connection with the local population and not active in social and cultural work. Note that the researcher was not critical enough to analyze the documents used. It is noted that this topic is only partially covered in the scientific work of domestic and foreign researchers.
